Watchman Commitment to Customer

The Quality of watchman products starts of an up-to-date planning, carried out with the aid of a sophisticated system which enables any element of the lockset to be designed and visualised in three-dimensional form, before being produced.

The quality of the product is guranteed by the planning effected in full respect of the most important international norms and all types of tests as laid down by these norms. Our laboratory is used to conduct new finishes and experiments on prototypes of new articles and to verify consistency of quality in products currently under production - thus an effective system of quality control has been set up within the company, painstaking research and constant comparative analyses to choose the most efficient machinery, permitting the production to achive such a level, which marks since longtime our quality.
